Program Objective

The event aimed to not just tell students about these jobs, but also to help them figure out what they might be good at. It also showed them many different job options, so they could see what might be interesting for them. Objectives of the program can be encapsulated as follows:

- Network as much as possible-
Network. Network. Network. That's a key buzz word you will be hearing throughout your time at the company. Take every opportunity to network, whether that's going to internal or external events or joining in extra activities in and around the workplace.
- Ask lots and lots of questions-
You are on your placement to learn, whether that's how to act in a corporate environment, to gain experience in your role or to develop a range of skills, you will only achieve these goals if you ask questions. If you don't understand something; are finding something difficult or need assistance, then just ask! Your manager, team and anyone appointed as your mentor are there for that reason.
- Develop your skills and abilities-
Having a placement with a company which invests into its employees is super important for your year in industry. Make sure you are aware of all your opportunities for learning, development and mentoring throughout the duration of your year. At Enterprise, each employee receives personal development meetings every two months. All employees also have the option to be partnered up with a mentor within the company. This will help you identify your strengths and weaknesses, and your manager will aim to set you goals to ensure these are developed.
- Try out new things-
Whether you have secured a placement in HR, Sales, Accounting or any other department, Enterprise is a company which encourages people to move around. So don't be afraid to ask to work shadow a different department. New starters at Enterprise are also encouraged to do one week in a rental branch of their choice!

- Get involved as much as possible-
As graduates currently, we are required to have acquired lot of professional experience and skills before even graduating, which is why it is vital to take every opportunity you get given within your placement year. Aside from saying “yes” to opportunities, ensure that you actively seek them. Ask to get involved in projects, volunteer for project managing extra- curricular and most importantly don’t be scared to try something new and outside of your comfort zone.
- Don’t waste any time and achieve the goals you set yourself-
You may hear this from several people as you start your placement, but coming from someone who has lived it, believe it, your placement year will go extremely fast. Make sure you set yourself personal goals with achievable and realistic time frames. You want to develop your attributes as much as you can this year so make sure you’re keeping a diary of your development as you can use this as examples in interviews after you graduate.
- Start your university work early on
I know how difficult it is starting a project that is due in a year’s time immediately, however getting your university work done early and spreading it throughout the year of your placement will save you a lot of last-minute hassle. Make sure your tutor and manager are on board with your university work and see whether taking out an hour or two per week to finish it is possible.
- Most importantly have fun-
Yes, you are in a working environment and yes you will have plenty of work to do, however the most important objective you should set yourself for this year is to have fun! Enterprise is a fun and friendly place to work where we do work hard but also reward hard work. The range of cake days, intern events and other events hosted throughout the company will ensure you have a great year.

These objectives collectively contribute to creating a holistic and enriching experience for the students, guiding them through the complexities of career choices and opportunities. It was an occasion that left an indelible mark on the minds of all those in attendance, illuminating the path forward for Christ Church College students in their future prospects.
