This event was organized in Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan Auditorium of Christ Church College under the guidance of Prof. Joseph Daniel, Principal and Secretary of the college. On the occasion of International Women's Day, a lecture program on "Gender Sensitization" was organized by the Gender Sensitization and Women Development Cell. Dr. Anshu Yadav, Professor and Dean of the School of Management, CSJM University, was the keynote speaker of the program. The program was conducted by Dr. Ankita Jasmine Lall.

The program started with a prayer to the Almighty led by Vice Principal Prof. Sabina Bodra. On this occasion, the Coordinator, Prof. Shipra Srivastava, welcomed everyone with a welcome speech. Keynote speaker Dr. Anshu Yadav informed the students about gender sensitization, including gender discrimination prevalent in society and various related issues. She provided detailed information about stereotypes and the importance of education for both boys and girls. Her address deeply emphasized the basics of gender sensitization, its need in today's world, and why it is high time that educational institutions start embracing gender sensitivity effectively.

She discussed behaviors that promote gender inequality and asked everyone to introspect their actions, as gender bias leads to performance loss, absenteeism, and stagnant organizational growth. Gender sensitization means representing and accepting a person without being overshadowed by their gender. Sensitivity leads to voices being heard, which promotes holistic growth for everyone and the organization.

Dr. Anshu Yadav mentioned that it is important to distinguish between intention and behavior. She continued that it is expected for everyone to respect and be sensitive to every person in their environment, regardless of their gender. She also said that establishing better communication is key to eradicating these issues. Gender sensitization promotes a positive and cohesive work environment with mutual respect for one another.

The session was interactive, and towards the end, she answered questions raised by the students. In the end, Mrs. Soofia Shahab thanked the speaker and the audience.

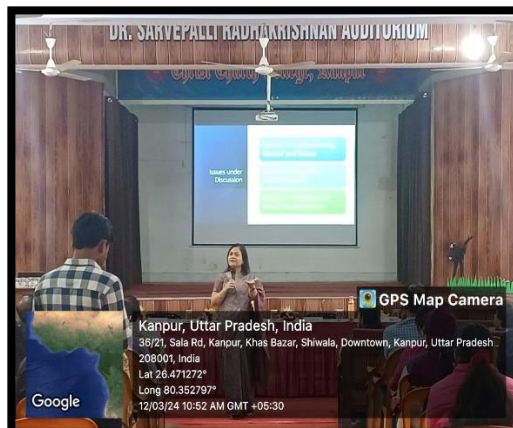

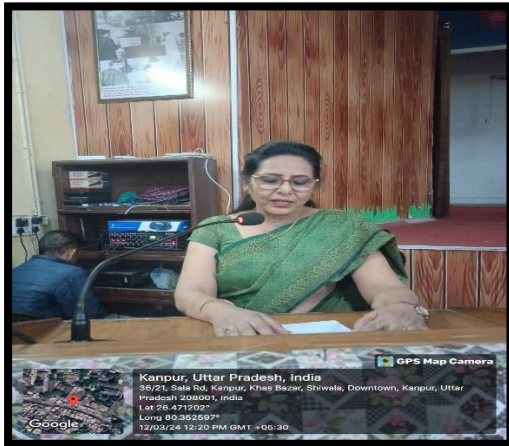

Program Outcome

The gender-sensitive awareness talk among students led to the following outcomes:

1. Increased Awareness: Students gained a deeper understanding of gender sensitivity, including the importance of mutual respect and equality.
2. Behavioural Change: There was a noticeable shift in student behaviour, with more inclusive and respectful interactions among peers.
3. Empowered Voices: Students felt more empowered to speak up against gender discrimination and bias, fostering a supportive environment.
4. Enhanced Communication: Improved communication skills were observed, promoting open discussions about gender-related issues.
5. Policy Advocacy: Students became advocates for gender-sensitive policies within the institution, pushing for changes that promote equality.

6. Community Building: The talk helped build a stronger sense of community, with students working together to create a more inclusive campus culture.
